工

Handwritten musical notation for the character '工' (Gong). It consists of two staves. The top staff contains nine notes, each marked with a sharp sign (#) and a dot above it. The bottom staff contains nine notes, each marked with a sharp sign (#) and a dot below it. The notes are arranged in a sequence that corresponds to the character '工' in Gongche notation.

The image displays three systems of handwritten musical notation, each consisting of two staves. The notation is written in a cursive style and includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, and accidentals (sharps).

- System 1: The top staff begins with a treble clef and contains a series of notes with sharp accidentals. The bottom staff contains a series of notes, some with sharp accidentals, and ends with a double bar line.
- System 2: The top staff begins with a treble clef and contains a series of notes with sharp accidentals. The bottom staff contains a series of notes, some with sharp accidentals, and ends with a double bar line.

IV

The image displays two systems of handwritten musical notation, each consisting of two staves. The notation is written in black ink on white paper. The first system (top) shows a sequence of notes and accidentals across four staves. The second system (bottom) shows a similar sequence. The notes are mostly quarter notes, and the accidentals include sharps (#) and double sharps (##). The notation is somewhat informal and appears to be a student exercise or a sketch.
