a drone: a deep long been sustained tone.

maybe Cis / Des.

at the beginning only the drone is heard for a while; perhaps take a drone with a high amount of partials.

after a while: a very slow movement much higher:

at first take rather high tones, then slowly move downwards – choosing lower tones.

you may take single tones or intervals (or chords) – swinging between pressing down a new key and releasing a key.

no pause during this movement from high to low.

without any haste; play more or less slowly all the time.

the drone all the while is sustained.

at the end only the drone is heard for a while, then ends.

repeat this process for rather a long time.
